What is Comprehensive Cancer Control?

Comprehensive Cancer Control (CCC) is a collaborative process through which a community pools resources to reduce the burden of cancer that results in risk reduction, early detection, better treatment, and enhanced survivorship.

These efforts encourage healthy lifestyles, promote recommended cancer screening guidelines and tests, increase access to quality cancer care, and improve the quality of life for cancer survivors.

Mission

Mission: The mission of the MP3C shall be to reduce the human suffering and economic burden from cancer for Mississippi citizens by developing, implementing and evaluating a comprehensive cancer prevention and control plan.

Vision

Every Mississippian has access to the highest standard of cancer prevention services, all cancer survivors have optimal quality of life, and no person dies unnecessarily from cancer.

✓ Network with Community Leaders

✓ Be a part of a Team/Coalition working together to decrease the burden of cancer

✓ Enhance your Leadership Skills

Bring together a group of people or organizations who work to put cancer research into action. This group may include cancer centers, hospitals, universities and schools, public health agencies, the government, and organizations like the American Cancer Society. They look at what methods have been shown to be most effective for cancer prevention, early detection, diagnosis, treatment, and survivorship.
